Policy Statement: Behaviour Code for Adults Working with Children

This Code outlines the expectations of the Parish of Bishop Hannington Memorial Church, Hove for all those at Bishop Hannington Church, Goldstone Church and Holy Cross Church who work or volunteer with children. 'Children' is defined as anyone under the age of 18, and therefore includes those who may conventionally be referred to as 'young people'. This Behaviour Code reflects our desire to follow Jesus in all we do, reflecting his love for those we minister to. It follows from our determination to ensure that our churches are places where children can not only be safe, but feel safe. And it reflects our unwavering commitment to the highest possible standards of safeguarding practice.

Following this Code will help to protect children from abuse and inappropriate behaviour from adults. It will help them learn how safe adults behave around them - thus equipping them to better recognise if an adult is behaving unsafely around them, and to know that this behaviour is wrong. It will also help staff and volunteers maintain the standards of behaviour expected of them, and will reduce the possibility of unfounded allegations of abuse being made against them.

Upholding the Code

All members of staff and volunteers are expected to report any breaches of this code to the parish Safeguarding Officer under the parish whistle-blowing procedure, or, if necessary, under the parish safeguarding policy.

Staff and volunteers who breach this code of behaviour may be subject to disciplinary procedures or asked to leave their role. Serious breaches will result in a referral being made to the Diocesan Safeguarding Advisor and if appropriate to a statutory agency such as the police or the local authority children's social care department.

Responsibility of Staff and Volunteers

When working with children and young people in our churches it is important that all staff and volunteers are aware that they may be seen as role models by children and young people, and by their parents. They therefore must act in an appropriate manner at all times.

When working with children and young people, it is important to:

- Treat all children and young people with respect and dignity.
- Ensure that your own language, tone of voice and body language is respectful.
- Value the contribution of children and young people, and take their views seriously, actively involving them in planning activities wherever possible.
- Respect a young person's right to personal privacy.
- Always aim to work within sight of another adult.
- Ensure another adult is informed if a child needs to be taken to the toilet; toilet breaks should be organised for young children.
- Ensure that children and young people know who they can talk to if they need to speak to someone about a personal concern.
- Respond warmly to a child who needs comforting, but make sure there are other adults around.
- If any activity requires physical contact, ensure that the child and parents are aware of this and its nature beforehand.
- Administer any necessary First Aid with others around.
- Obtain consent for any photographs/videos to be taken, shown or displayed.
- Record any concerning incidents and give the information to your group leader. Sign and date the record.
- Always share concerns about a child or the behaviour of another worker with your group leader and/or the parish safeguarding coordinator.

When working with children and young people, you should not:

- Initiate physical contact. Any necessary contact (eg for comfort, see above) should be initiated by the child.
- Play rough physical games with children, or allow games with a potentially physical element (such as 'British Bulldog') to be played between children without careful thought, planning, and prior notification to parents and children.
- Act, speak, or conduct yourself in a sexually provocative or suggestive way, either directly towards children, or with other adults when you are with children, or engage in any sexual behaviour at all with children or young people. It is your responsibility to do everything you can do to avoid any hint of sexually inappropriate behaviour, language, or styles of relating with children or young people.
- Encourage children to behave in sexually provocative or suggestive ways with each other.
- Touch a child inappropriately or obtrusively.
- Invade a child's privacy while washing or going to the toilet.
- Act in a way that can be perceived as threatening or intrusive.
- Use any form of physical punishment.
- Scapegoat, ridicule or reject a child, group or adult.
- Permit abusive peer activities, eg initiation ceremonies, ridiculing or bullying.
- Show favouritism to any one child or group.
- Allow a child or young person to involve you in excessive attention seeking, including that which is overtly physical or sexual in nature. It is always your responsibility to maintain appropriate boundaries in your work with children and young people.
- Give lifts to children or young people on their own or on your own.
- Smoke tobacco, vape or take drugs in the presence of children.
- Drink alcohol when responsible for young children, or offer to give or buy them alcohol.
- Share sleeping accommodation with children.
- Invite a child to your home alone.
- Arrange social occasions with children (other than family members or close family friends) outside organised group occasions.
- Allow unknown adults access to children. Visitors should always be accompanied by a known person.
- Allow strangers to give children lifts.

In addition, those working with 14-18s (and exceptionally, with those aged 12 or 13) may wish to have a 'One to One' with a young person in order to plan, study the bible and pray together. In such circumstances, the following conditions will be met:

- The meeting will take place:
 - In a public building such as a coffee shop.
 - Or they meet at the child's home, and a parent/carer is present in a nearby room.
 - Or they meet in a room at church or in a home where another responsible adult is present or in a nearby room
- If meeting in the church building or in a home:
 - The meeting must take place in a ground floor sitting room (not a bedroom) where the door is left at least ajar, and someone else is nearby in the building
 - Ideally they meet in a room where the window opens on to a public space so that their meeting can be seen by those outside the meeting
 - Parents/carers of the child know that the meeting is taking place
 - Other staff members and (if married) the spouse of the leader know that the meeting is taking place, where, at what time and when it will finish.
 - The child sits nearer to the door than the leader
 - The child and leader do not share a sofa or other seat

We also note that many young people have mobile phones and social media accounts. The policy about communicating with them using these media is contained in Bishop Hannington Church's E-Safety policy.
